

Family activities

On Wednesday evening, HLE 2016 is having a parent's workshop, dinner and chat, and kids' activities. It's a great opportunity to explore, learn, and meet other families that share similar experiences.

And There Is More ...

- Training for professionals: Communication and technology for people who are hard of hearing—Registration required!
- "Ask-a-Lawyer" booth
- Program for high school students who are deaf, deafblind, or hard of hearing
- Workshop for sign language interpreters

Communication Access

There is no need to worry!

Through technology and sign language interpreters, the Expo is communicatively accessible to people who use sign language and those who do not.

For more information about communication access,

Hearing Loss Expo

Free Hearing and Vision Screenings

The 2016 Hearing Loss Expo is the only expo of its kind! There is no other place where you can see live captioning at a workshop and working sign language interpreters, test drive technology, and learn about services and programs for people who are deaf, deafblind, or hard of hearing. Kill that curiosity and stop by the expo!

Expo Hall

The Expo Hall has an array of exhibitors featuring camps, ministries, hearing aids, social groups, membership organizations, career options, sign language, and programs/services. View the exhibitor directory at www.dli.pa.gov/odhh.

Are you:

- Turning up the volume on the TV?
- Struggling to follow a conversation at work or the dinner table?
- Having blurred vision?
- Squinting and having difficulty reading the small print?

If you answered yes, then stop by the Expo to have your hearing and/or vision screened!

Interactive Workshop

This is not your typical workshop. It is designed to give you a glimpse of how a person who is deaf, deafblind, or hard of hearing functions daily. The workshop includes discussion and hands-on activities. The tables are turned! You will perform tasks using technology, ear plugs, and simulation goggles. There are multiple workshop times, but space is limited. Registration required, so RSVP now!

Educational Presentations

Traditionally, the Expo offers several one-hour presentations on a variety of topics. This year, topics include emergency preparedness, advocacy, and equal access. Presentations are accessible via spoken English, American Sign Language, captioning, and assistive listening devices. Registration is not required.
