Secretary for Labor & Industry

The Department of Labor & Industry's Bureau of Workers' Compensation and Office of Adjudication continued on a trajectory of achievement in 2009 that resulted in a workers' compensation system providing even more efficient service to Pennsylvania's workers, employers and insurers.

We have strengthened online services by increasing the number of forms that can be filed electronically, adding the notices of Compensation Denial, Stopping Temporary Compensation, Temporary Compensation Payable and Compensation Payable.

Revised self-insurance regulations, published as proposed rulemaking in April 2009, increase the clarity and consistency of existing procedures, provide more objective standards for qualifying for, and maintaining self-insurance status, and strengthen the department's ability to effectively monitor and regulate workers' compensation self-insurance in Pennsylvania.

More than 8,500 employers in the private and public sectors have developed state-certified workplace safety committees, through which collaboration between labor and management now protects more than 1.1 million workers and has provided businesses with workers' compensation insurance premium savings totaling more than a third of a billion dollars.

Improved workplace safety, combined with a modern, efficient workers' compensation system, will strengthen Pennsylvania and help it meet the challenges of competing successfully in a global marketplace.

Sincerely

Elizabeth Crum

Deputy Secretary for Compensation and Insurance

In 2009, the Bureau of Workers' Compensation and Workers' Compensation Office of Adjudication accelerated efforts to provide the best possible customer service to all stakeholders.

The Office of Adjudication expanded the availability of alternate dispute resolution services by increasing the number of workers' compensation judges providing mediation services and improving the delivery of the services through the hearing offices. Of the 6,162 claims mediated, 49 percent resulted in resolution of the claim.

We decreased the average amount of time it takes to decide cases to an all-time low 6.8 months. This statewide average has decreased every year since 2002, and has been reduced from 11.8 months in 1998. As judges continue to decide more cases than receive new petitions, the number of cases pending for more than 18 months has been reduced by 27 percent since 2007.

The Bureau of Workers' Compensation continued to streamline processes and improve efficiency. Electronically, more forms can be filed, transactions completed and information provided.

Technological progress will continue in 2010 as the Office of Adjudication and the Bureau of Workers' Compensation and Workers' Compensation Appeal Board develop and implement a new computer system that will create greater efficiencies and provide even better service.

I congratulate everyone who has helped us to provide services more efficiently and be more responsive to our constituents. I look forward to even greater success in the years to come.

Sincerely,

John Kupchinsky

Director, Bureau of Workers' Compensation

During 2009, the Bureau of Workers' Compensation continued to build on the successes of previous years and to add new success stories in many areas of the bureau's operation.

The Health and Safety Division's data processing and management system, HandS, continues to pay dividends. By the end of 2009, the number of certified workplace safety committees exceeded 8,500, covering more than 1.1 million employees. Since the inception of the program, Pennsylvania employers with certified safety committees have realized more than $356,000,000 in workers' compensation premium discounts. The convenience and accuracy of the HandS system have contributed greatly to the awareness and effectiveness of the program, and the Health and Safety Division is constantly fine-tuning HandS to make it more convenient and efficient to use.

The Uninsured Employers Guaranty Fund has seen continued growth and, as before, the bureau continues its emphasis on securing the payment of benefits when due from the uninsured employer. The number of cases filed with the fund exceeds 800. Together with our legal staff, the bureau has achieved reimbursements to the fund through the imposition of liens on bank accounts and other legal processes.

Another area in which we have realized success is the medical fee review program. Due to the hard work of the Health Care Services Review Division, we have seen the number of pending fee review cases decline from approximately 23,000 to about 6,500 during the course of the year, with an accompanying improvement in the average time for issuing determinations. Moreover, the Health Care Services Review Division remains committed to further decrease the number of pending cases and to continue to improve timeliness.

2009 also brought the new 6th edition of the AMA Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairment. This new edition required our Health Care Services Review Division to ensure that all physicians on the bureau's impairment rating evaluation (IRE) list attain the necessary certification to continue to provide qualified medical evaluations to insurers and claimants in accordance with the Workers' Compensation Act. The Health Care Services Review Division notified all the IRE physicians of the new requirements and verified certifications by the time of the effective date of the new guides.

We also have seen improvement in our service to the workers' compensation community in the Self-Insurance Division. This division completed the implementation of Internet-based financial analysis services to better determine an applicant's financial ability to self-insure. This improved information tool enhances the division's ability to protect the injured employees of these companies from the consequences of business failure.

I have highlighted only some of the achievements of our dedicated staff at the bureau during 2009. In order to appreciate the full story of our achievements this year, don't overlook the individual reports from our divisions and sections in the rest of this report.

Sincerely,

Overview of the PA Workers' Compensation Program

A Brief History of Pennsylvania Workers' Compensation Law

In 1915, the Pennsylvania Legislature enacted the Pennsylvania Workmen's (Workers') Compensation Act (Act). The statute charges the Department of Labor & Industry (department), Bureau of Workers' Compensation (bureau), with carrying out the administrative and appeal obligations defined in the Act and specifies compensation for employees who are injured as a result of employment without regard to fault. Amendments eventually merged the compensation for injuries and occupational diseases into this Act. The statute defines the benefits available to Pennsylvania workers, the conditions under which benefits are available and the procedures for obtaining them.

The workers' compensation system protects employees and employers. Employees receive medical treatment and are compensated for wage loss associated with work-related injuries and disease, and employers provide for the cost of such coverage while being protected from direct lawsuits by employees.

Workers' compensation coverage is mandatory for most employers under Pennsylvania law. Employers who do not have workers' compensation coverage may be subject to lawsuits by employees and to criminal prosecution by the commonwealth.

Some employers are exempted from workers' compensation coverage. Exemptions include: people covered under other workers' compensation acts, such as railroad workers, longshoremen and federal employees; domestic servants (coverage is optional); agricultural workers who work fewer than 30 days or earn less than $1,200 in a calendar year from one employer; and employees who have requested, and been granted, exemption due to religious beliefs or their executive status in certain corporations.

In Pennsylvania, employers can obtain workers' compensation insurance through a licensed insurance carrier or the State Workers' Insurance Fund. In addition, employers can apply to the bureau to seek approval to self-insure their liability. Self-insurance is granted by the bureau based on criteria established by the Act and the department.

Employees are covered for the entire period of their employment. Therefore, coverage begins the first day on the job. Injuries or diseases caused or aggravated by employment are covered under workers' compensation, regardless of the employee's previous physical condition.

Mission Statement

The Pennsylvania workers' compensation program was established to reduce injuries and provide wage-loss and medical benefits to Pennsylvania employees who become ill or injured through the course of their employment so they can heal and return to the workforce.

The bureau is responsible for carrying out the provisions of the Act and related legislation and for fulfilling the overall purpose of Pennsylvania's workers' compensation system. In carrying out the requirements of the Act, the bureau has several primary roles:

1. Obtain, review and maintain records on certain loss-time work injuries and benefit documents.
2. Certify individual self-insured employers and self-insured employer pools and determine their monetary security requirements.
3. Resolve areas of contention among the participants in the workers' compensation system.
4. Enforce the provisions of the Act.
5. Promote the health and safety of Pennsylvania's employees in accordance with the 1993 and 1996 amendments to the Act.
6. Enforce the occupational disease provisions of the Act.

Overview of the PA Workers' Compensation Program

Basic Benefits

1. Replacement of Lost Wages. A portion of the workers' salary – up to a maximum amount provided by law – is paid for the time lost from work as a result of a work-related disability, if the disability lasts longer than seven calendar days. These payments are tax free. The maximum allowable weekly benefit for calendar year 2009 was $836. Partial disability benefits consisting of two-thirds of the gross difference in wage loss for up to 500 weeks are paid to employees who suffer a partial disability resulting from a work-related injury or disease. Benefits can possibly be subject to other reductions or offsets.
2. Payment of Medical Expenses. Reasonable and necessary work-related medical expenses are paid regardless of the duration of required treatment and apply even though the employee may not have lost time from work.
3. Specific Loss Benefits. Benefits are payable if a work-related injury results in loss of vision, hearing and/or the use of limbs (including fingers and toes). Specific loss benefits are paid without regard to the amount of time lost from work. A separate healing period is also defined for each loss.
4. Disfigurement Benefits. Benefits are payable if there is a serious, permanent disfigurement of the head, face or neck.
5. Death Benefits. The employee's dependents may claim benefits if a work-related injury or disease results in the employee's death. Also, reasonable burial expenses are payable to a maximum amount set by law.
6. Subsequent Injuries. Additional compensation may be available through the Subsequent Injury Fund. This fund is administered by the commonwealth and pays workers who have had a specific loss of use for a hand, arm, foot, leg or eye and who incur total disability caused by loss of use of another hand, arm, foot, leg or eye. Then, the commonwealth makes payments for the duration of the workers' total disability.

Funding for Pennsylvania's Workers' Compensation System

The administration of the Pennsylvania workers' compensation system is funded by a spending authorization appropriated by the state legislature and approved by the governor. The money for these expenditures comes from five special funds established through assessments:

1. The Workers' Compensation Administration Fund

Purpose: Provides funding for the administrative operations of the bureau, the Workers' Compensation Office of Adjudication and the Workers' Compensation Appeal Board.

Assessment Amount: For fiscal year 2008/09, the amount assessed totaled $60,010,984 and represented 2.19 percent of compensation paid in calendar year 2007.

2. The Supersedeas Fund

Purpose: To provide relief to employers/insurers for payments made during litigation of claims contesting whether compensation is payable. When an employer/insurer files a petition for termination, modification or suspension of benefits, a supersedeas hearing can also be requested. At this hearing, the workers' compensation judge can deny the request or grant a temporary order of partial or total suspension of benefits. If the request is denied, but the final decision of the judge is that compensation was not payable, the employer/insurer may apply to be reimbursed from the Supersedeas Fund for "overpayments" made following the initial denial.

Assessment Amount: For fiscal year 2008/09, the amount assessed was $18,054,158 and represented 0.66 percent of compensation paid in calendar year 2007.

3. The Subsequent Injury Fund

Purpose: To compensate workers who experience certain losses (for example: arm, hand, leg, foot, eye) subsequent to a prior loss.

Assessment Amount: The total amount of the fund equals the amount expended from the fund in the preceding year. Law requires the fund to have a minimum funding of $100,000. For the 2008/09 fiscal year, the amount assessed totaled $239,112 and represented 0.009 percent of compensation paid in calendar year 2007.

4. The Self-Insurance Guaranty Fund

Purpose: To make payments to any eligible claimant or dependent upon the default of the self-insurer liable to pay compensation or associated costs due under the Pennsylvania Workers' Compensation Act and the Pennsylvania Occupational Disease Act as amended in 1993. This fund is used when the securities posted by defaulting companies are exhausted, but can only be used for injuries occurring after the 1993 amendments. With the passage of Act 53 of 2000, the General Assembly created a restricted account within the Guaranty Fund called the Prefund Account. The purpose of the Prefund Account is to provide for the continuation of benefits to workers who were injured prior to 1993 and whose self-insured employers have gone bankrupt. Originally, the Prefund Account was financed through the transfer of interest earned in the Administration Fund. However, in June 2001 the General Assembly enacted Act 49, which made the financing of the Prefund Account a budget item of the Administration Fund.

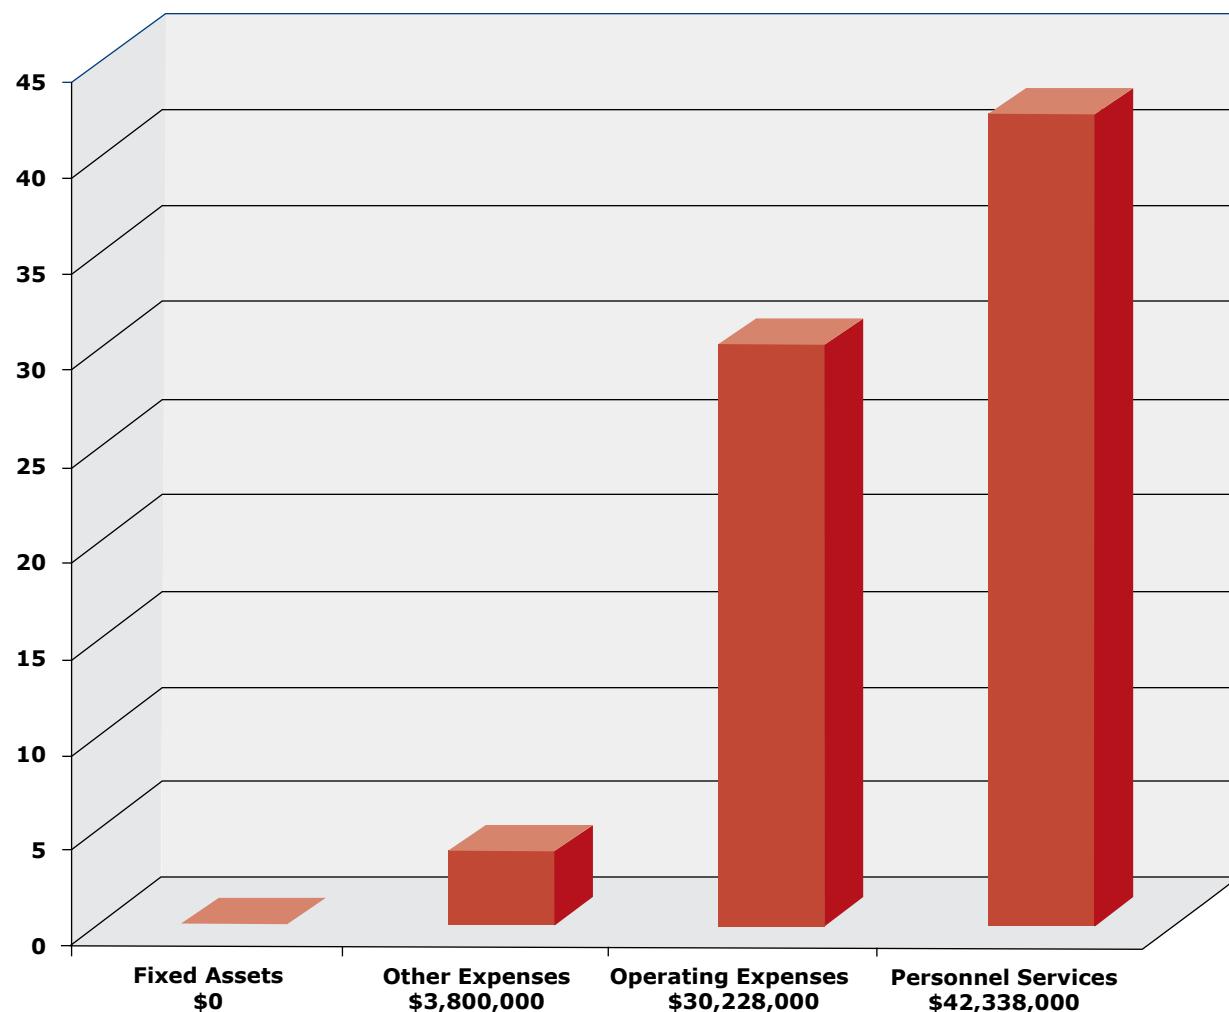

Assessment Determination/Amount: For new self-insurers starting self-insurance after Oct. 30, 1993, the assessment is 0.5 percent of their modified premium for the 12 months immediately preceding the start of self-insurance. Existing and former self-insurers with runoff claims may be assessed on an as-needed basis at the rate of up to 1 percent of compensation paid annually. For fiscal year 2008/09, the amount assessed was $28,507 and represented 0.5 percent of the annual modified premium of employers starting self-insurance.

5. Uninsured Employers Guaranty Fund

Purpose: To extend workers' compensation benefits to injured workers whose employers fail to insure, or be approved to self-insure, their liability for work-related injuries. Initial money for the fund was transferred from the Administration Fund, with subsequent funding made from assessments to insurers and self-insured employers.

Assessment Amount: Assessments have been made annually since 2007. This fund assessed $2,734,367 during 2008/09.

Workers' Compensation Updates

The Workers' Compensation Rules Committee

The Workers' Compensation Rules Committee's purpose is to improve the administration of workers' compensation proceedings.

The committee is comprised of 19 members, including the chairman of the Senate Labor & Industry Committee, the chairman of the House Labor Relations Committee, the director of the Office of Adjudication, the bureau's deputy chief counsel, the deputy secretary for compensation & insurance, two Workers' Compensation Appeal Board representatives, four workers' compensation judges, and eight attorneys representing both employers and employees.

In November 2006, the committee, under the leadership of Chairman Stanley H. Siegel, Esq., convened for the purpose of considering potential revisions to the existing Board Rules and Judges' Rules. The work of the committee culminated in the publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin of amendments to chapters 111 and 131 (relating to the Special Rules of Administrative Practice and Procedure before the Workers' Compensation Appeal Board and Special Rules of Administrative Practice and Procedure before Workers' Compensation Judges) on Oct. 17, 2009. The changes to the rules were necessary, in part, as a result of amendments to the Workers' Compensation Act enacted in 2006 through Act 147. These changes included an amendment to the Act that provided for mandatory mediation, changes in the law governing child support payments and advances in technology that allow the Bureau of Workers' Compensation to accept filings electronically.

John McTiernan presents Stanley Siegel with a locomotive bell, recognizing his years of service.

Effective Jan. 1, 2010, Siegel resigned as Chairman of the Workers' Compensation Rules Committee. Siegel had been the Chairman of the Rules Committee (and its predecessor, the Committee for Workers' Compensation Referees' Rules and Procedure) since May 13, 1980. The committee, as well as all of those involved in the workers' compensation system, owes a debt of gratitude to Siegel for his years of service. Under his stewardship the committee was constantly reminded to take into consideration the viewpoint of all stakeholders in its effort to meet its stated purpose: "to improve the administration of workers' compensation proceedings." Pittsburgh attorney John W. McTiernan has assumed the position of chair of the committee. In recognition of Siegel's more than 30 years of service as chair of the committee, McTiernan presented Siegel with a restored locomotive bell, which dovetails with his hobby as a train enthusiast.

Workers' Compensation Advisory Council

The Workers' Compensation Advisory Council was created under Section 447 of the Workers' Compensation Act. The council is composed of eight members, and the secretary of Labor & Industry is the ex officio member. Members are appointed as follows: one employee and employer representative by the president pro tempore of the Senate, one employee and employer representative by the speaker of the House of Representatives, one employee and employer representative by the minority leader of the Senate and one employee and employer representative by the minority leader of the House of Representatives. Members serve a term of two years or until their successors have been appointed.

The council reviews requests for workers' compensation funding by the department and any assessments against employers or insurers related thereto, makes recommendations regarding certification of utilization review organizations and preferred provider organizations, reviews proposed legislation and regulations and reviews the annual medical accessibility study. The findings are reported to the governor, the department secretary and the legislature.

Two co-chairs, representing labor and management, and the rest of the council hold public meetings to discuss various issues of the department, bureau and legislature.

Kids' Chance of Pennsylvania Inc.

Kids' Chance of Pennsylvania Inc. is a nonprofit organization providing college and vocational school scholarships to children of Pennsylvania workers who have been seriously or fatally injured in a work-related accident or illness that has resulted in financial need. Each year, Kids' Chance makes a significant difference in the lives of affected Pennsylvania families by providing scholarship support to help eligible students pursue and achieve their higher education goals.

Workers' Compensation Updates

Developed and sustained by concerned groups and individuals involved in workers' compensation-related matters since its founding in 1997, Kids' Chance of Pennsylvania has awarded more than 334 scholarship grants to eligible applicants totaling more than $532,750. Support for Kids' Chance of Pennsylvania's operations and scholarships comes directly from tax-deductible charitable contributions made by companies, professional firms and membership organizations, as well as individuals and community groups. The total amount disbursed to eligible students each year is dependent upon charitable donations received and the qualifications of students who apply. Grants are for one academic year and generally range from $1,000 to $2,000. Through grants from ACE Charitable Foundation, Alliance Impairment Management Inc., Eastern Alliance Insurance Group, Georgelis Law Firm P.C., Hoover Rehabilitation Services, PA Bar Association - WC Section, The Chartwell Law Offices LLP and Universal SmartComp, Kids' Chance of Pennsylvania has been able to provide special grants, generally $5,000, for eligible applicants demonstrating a high level of both academic promise and financial need.

For more information, to apply for a scholarship or to make a donation, please visit www.kidschanceofpa.org, e-mail info@kidschanceofpa.org or phone 610.970.9143.

21-Day Compliance

The Pennsylvania Workers' Compensation Act requires insurers and self-insured employers to either accept or deny a claim within 21 days of notice or knowledge of an employee's disability. The bureau continues to monitor the 21-day compliance rate of insurers and self-insured employers.

Individual 21-day reports were issued for the reporting period of Jan. 1, 2007, through Dec. 31, 2007, to all insurers and self-insured employers with a 60-day reconsideration period to allow the opportunity for challenges prior to publication of the results on the department's website. The statewide industry average for that period was 70 percent.

For 2008, the bureau provided individual reports for the reporting period of Oct. 1, 2008, through Dec. 31, 2008, with a 45-day reconsideration period to allow the opportunity for challenges prior to publication of the results on the department's website. The statewide industry average for that period was 71 percent. The details for the published report are being compiled and will be published on the website in the near future.

Both 2007 and 2008 reports identified each insurer and self-insured employer by name and bureau code, the total number of claims filed in the reporting period, total number of passed and failed claims, the length of the reporting period and the failed percentage.

Total Disability Weekly Workers' Compensation Rates

The following table illustrates the weekly workers' compensation rates used to calculate benefits payable to an injured employee.

Statewide Average Weekly Wage/Maximum Compensation Rate Payable	50 Percent of Statewide Average Weekly Wage/50 Percent of Maximum Compensation Rate Payable
2000	$611.00	2000	$305.50
2001	$644.00	2001	$322.00
2002	$662.00	2002	$331.00
2003	$675.00	2003	$337.50
2004	$690.00	2004	$345.00
2005	$716.00	2005	$358.00
2006	$745.00	2006	$372.50
2007	$779.00	2007	$389.50
2008	$807.00	2008	$403.50
2009*	$836.00	2009*	$418.00

The compensation rate is 66 2/3 percent of the employee's average weekly wage. If 66 2/3 percent of the employee's average weekly wage is greater than the maximum, the rate of compensation payable is equal to the maximum. If the benefit calculated is less than 50 percent of the statewide average weekly wage, then the compensation rate shall be the lower of 50 percent of the statewide average weekly wage or 90 percent of the employee's average weekly wage. There is no absolute minimum.

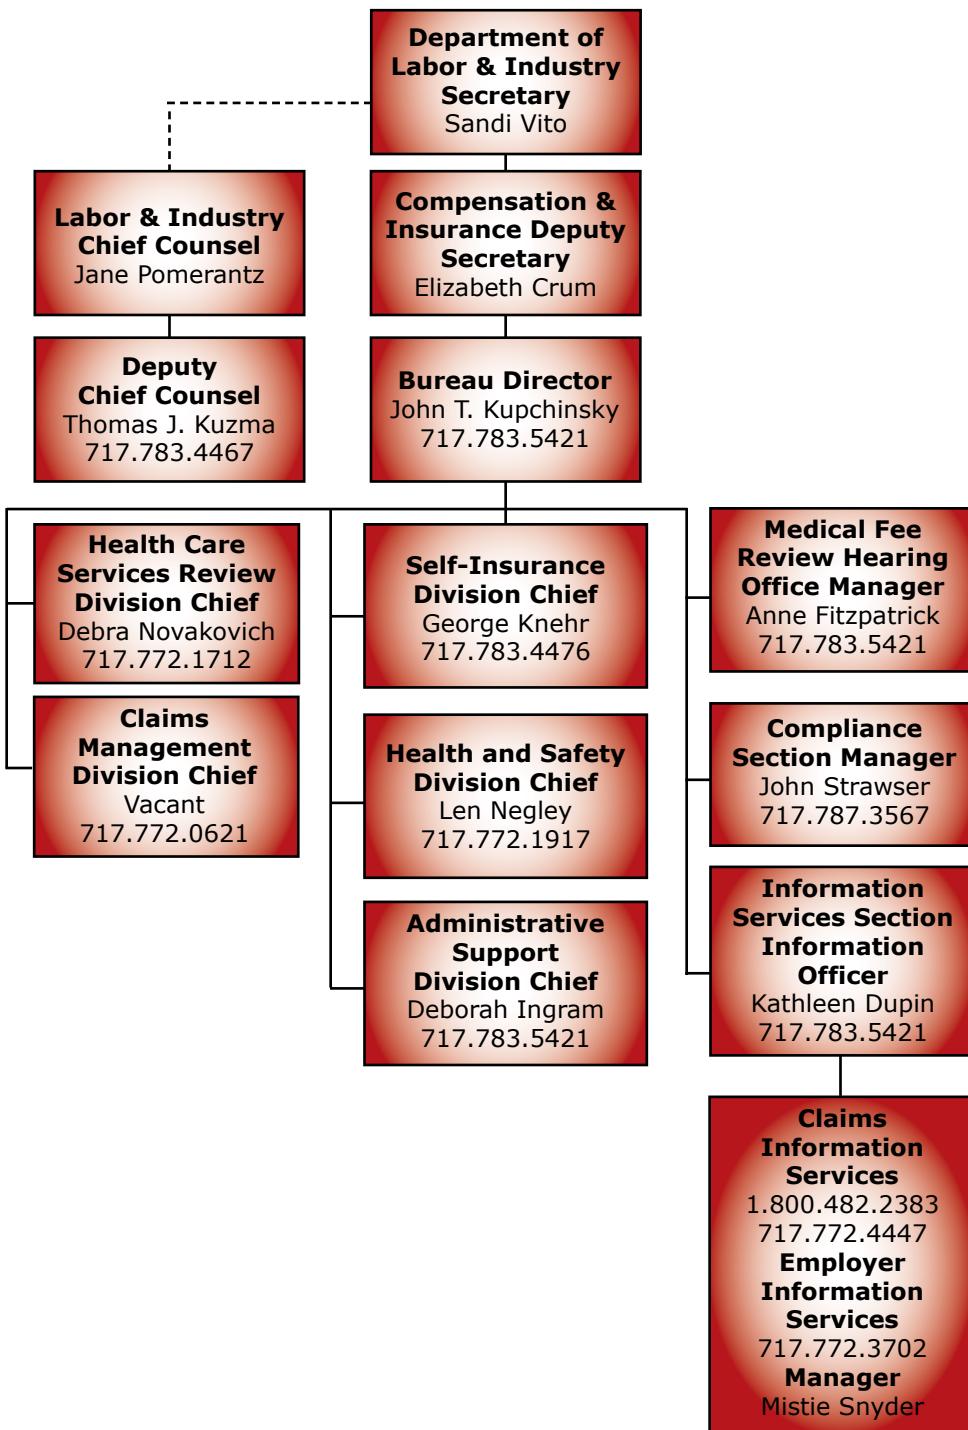

The maximum compensation rate payable is calculated annually and is effective Jan. 1 of each year. The calculation of the average weekly wage is defined by the Act. Corresponding figures for years prior to 2000 are maintained by the bureau. For partial disability, other calculations and definitions apply.

*For purposes of calculating the update to payments for medical treatment rendered on and after Jan. 1, 2009, the percentage increase in the statewide average weekly wage was 3.6 percent.

Director's Office – Compliance Section

John Strawser

Primary Functions

Ensure compliance with the Workers' Compensation Act, regulations enacted pursuant to the Act and orders issued by workers' compensation judges. These functions are accomplished through:

1. Educating employers regarding the requirement to insure their workers' compensation liability.
2. Investigating reports of alleged employers' failure to insure their liability and prosecuting cases of noncompliance in accordance with the criminal provisions provided by the Act.
3. Referring allegations of employee fraud to the appropriate insurance carrier and prosecuting authority and allegations of employer, insurer or medical provider fraud to the proper prosecuting authority.
4. Reviewing all work-related injuries suffered by minors to determine if potential child labor law violations existed, referring said violations to the Bureau of Labor Law Compliance for determination and collection of any additional compensation due to injured minors.
5. Notifying dependents of their survivor rights under the Act when work-related fatalities occur.
6. Reviewing and investigation allegations of insurer, self-insurer or third-party administrator violations of the Act to determine if further action is warranted.

7. Processing statutorily permissible exceptions, exemptions and elections for inclusion under the Act.

2009 Accomplishments

1. Mailed the Employer Information pamphlet to 23,314 new or modified businesses to better educate employers about their workers' compensation responsibilities, along with certificates of insurance to secure information assuring their compliance; 11,408 businesses failed to respond, resulting in a second mailing.

Code chapters 111 and 131, at 39 Pa. Bull. 6038 (Oct. 17, 2009). The rulemaking document provides additional guidance for the litigation of matters before the Board, the Office of Adjudication (Office) and Judges, and refines existing rules governing practices and procedures before the Board, the Office and Judges. The Rules were last updated in 2002.
2. Proposed Rulemaking, Department of Labor & Industry, Workers' Compensation Self-Insurance, No. 12-85 – On May 2, 2009, the department published a notice of proposed rulemaking at 39 Pa. Bull. 2293. The rulemaking updates and clarifies the standards and procedures governing the processing of applications for and the administration of self-insurance for individual employers pursuant to 34 Pa. Code Chapter 125. The proposal represents the first comprehensive revision to the self-insurance regulations in 18 years.
3. Memorandum of Understanding between Federal Office of Child Support Enforcement (OCSE) and PA Bureau of Workers' Compensation – The workers' compensation division reviewed, revised and worked with representatives of the federal OCSE to execute this agreement, by which the department will assist the federal OCSE with data collection that supports the interception of past-due child support owed to children of Pennsylvania workers' compensation recipients.

Bureau Divisions

- of Common Pleas agreed with the department's amicus argument and found that the exclusivity clause of the Pennsylvania Workers' Compensation Act did not prevent injured employees from suing their uninsured employers for their injuries. The court reasoned that uninsured employers should not be permitted to benefit from their failure to maintain the required insurance coverage, and avoid responsibility for their allegedly negligent conduct.
6. Henkels & McCoy Inc. & Liberty Mut. Ins. Co. v. WCAB (Barner), 972 A.2d 82 (Pa. Cmwlth. Ct. 2009) – On April 15, 2009, the Commonwealth Court agreed with the workers' compensation division's position and denied Supersedeas Fund reimbursement under Section 443 of the Act, 77 P.S. § 999. In this case, the insurer argued that it was entitled to reimbursement of payments that it inappropriately withheld from the injured worker. The court noted that the insurer did not make payments as a result of the denial of supersedeas, but instead paid the claimant when it realized that it had wrongly withheld payment.
7. The following is a history of the workers' compensation division's successful Section 305 prosecutions for failure to insure/self-insure workers' compensation liability for 2009:
- a. Benner, Kenneth E./Benner's Amusements Inc./Susquehanna Valley Amusements Inc. – On March 10, 2009, defendant Benner entered the Accelerated Rehabilitative Disposition (ARD) program for a term of two years. The defendant must also pay all applicable court costs, as well as restitution in the amount of $25,559.67 and must continuously maintain workers' compensation insurance coverage for all employees. The defendant may not seek expungement of his criminal record for a period of 10 years. (Snyder County)
 - b. Camerlengo, Perry Jr./Luxury Limousine Service Inc. – On Feb. 2, 2009, defendant Luxury Limousine entered into ARD for one year. The defendant was also ordered to pay a $5,000 fine and the costs of ARD. (Delaware County)
 - c. Cerrata, James d/b/a Jaime's Landscape – On July 14, 2009, the defendant entered the ARD program for six months, was ordered to pay assessments at the rate of $50 per month, serve 15 hours of community service and pay restitution in the amount of $1,533.48. (Luzerne County)

Goals

1. Continue to implement the mission of the Office of Chief Counsel, providing our clients with superior professional legal services by assisting them in achieving their objectives within the bounds of the law.

MaryKay Rauenzahn

Director, Workers' Compensation Office of Adjudication

The Workers' Compensation Office of Adjudication takes very seriously its mission to "address workers' compensation disputes by affording timely and impartial adjudication of workers' compensation matters, and to encourage cooperation among parties to workers' compensation claims by providing alternative dispute resolution services."

In 2009, the Office of Adjudication demonstrated this commitment by continuing to reduce both the number of petitions pending before workers' compensation judges and the average time to process litigated claims. In addition, the number of cases closed and awaiting decision for more than 90 days decreased by over 82 percent.

In the area of alternate dispute resolution, the Office of Adjudication continued to actively encourage disputants to increase their awareness of the value of self-determination in resolving workers' compensation disputes and to utilize both the mandatory and voluntary mediation services offered. The Office of Adjudication made it a priority to increase the number of judges providing mediation services and redesign mediation programs in many of the hearing offices to more fully meet the needs of the parties.

Customer service plays a very large part in delivering on our mission. The successes noted above would not have been possible without the hard work and dedication of our clerical employees, judges and management team. I want to recognize and thank each of them for their superior efforts in allowing the Office of Adjudication to provide top-notch services to the Pennsylvania workers' compensation community.

Sincerely,

Overview of the Office of Adjudication

Primary Function

The Office of Adjudication is responsible for the resolution of disputed workers' compensation matters. The director of adjudication oversees 94 workers' compensation judges, four judge managers, four administrative officers and 24 field offices. The workers' compensation judges conduct hearings in disputed matters and render reasoned decisions in a timely manner. Judges also provide alternative dispute resolution services in contested matters.

2009 Accomplishments

1. Reduced the statewide average time to hear and decide workers' compensation cases to 6.8 months, down from 7.1 months in 2008, 7.3 months in 2007, 7.8 months in 2006, 8.3 months in 2005, 8.4 months in 2004, 8.7 months in 2003, 9.3 months in 2002, 9.8 months in 1999 and 11.5 months in 1998.
2. Reduced the number of pending petitions from 28,480 in 2008 to 27,599 at the end of 2009.
3. Reduced the number of cases pending for more than 18 months to 1,118, or 6.5 percent of all cases pending, down from 1,233 in 2008 and 1,465 in 2007.
4. Ended the year with less than 1.5 percent of closed petitions having been closed for more than 90 days prior to decision.
5. Continued to expand the availability of alternate dispute resolution services to the parties by increasing the number of judges providing mediation services and improving the delivery of the services through the hearing offices.
6. Provided expanded opportunities for the judges to meet the training requirements of the Act through the 2009 workers' compensation judges' conference as well as regularly scheduled online legal research training sessions.
7. Continued to work with the judges and district safety committees to identify and address safety concerns in the field offices and remote hearing sites.
8. Continued to support employee training and certification in CPR, AED and first aid as well as monitor and update AED equipment as necessary.
9. Encouraged participation by the judges as speakers at educational events, such as the bureau conference, bar association presentations and other industry gatherings.

10. Developed updated training material for new judges, including a new case management DVD and an expanded library of multimedia educational tools.
11. Continued to educate parties on the department's limited-English-proficiency policy and the procedure for requesting language interpretation services at hearings and mediations.
12. Made prompt adjustments to the Office of Adjudication's procedures to meet the requirements of the amendments to the Special Rules of Administrative Practice and Procedure before Workers' Compensation Judges that went into effect in October 2009.
13. Continued to work with the Bureau of Workers' Compensation to provide additional convenience to our customers by introducing additional forms for submission via the Web.

Goals

1. Continue to decide cases within 90 days of the date they are concluded and ready for decision.
2. Continue the positive trend to reduce the average length of time necessary to adjudicate a case as well as the number of petitions in litigation for more than 18 months.
3. Provide additional mediation training opportunities to all judges.
4. Increase the number of judges available to offer mediation services and reduce the wait time for voluntary mediation sessions.
5. Continue to enhance the professional caliber of the judge corps through the development and presentation of continuing legal education courses dealing with issues of special interest and importance to the workers' compensation judges.
6. Continue to provide ongoing training to new and established clerical staff in all computer applications utilized by the Office of Adjudication.
7. Work to identify possible safety issues in all of the adjudication offices and remote hearing sites and take preventative action.
8. Continue to provide accurate and up-to-date online information regarding judges' procedural requirements at hearings and mediations, and other pertinent WCOA information, via the department's website.

Overview of the Office of Adjudication

Mission Statement

To address workers' compensation disputes by affording timely and impartial adjudication of workers' compensation matters, and to encourage cooperation among parties to workers' compensation claims by providing alternative dispute resolution services.

Judge Managers

Susan Caravaggio

David Cicola

Karen Wertheimer

In addition to managing their own caseloads, the judge managers supervise the judges in the Office of Adjudication field offices in their respective regions and the four administrative officers. Among other duties, judge managers are responsible for balancing workloads among judges, reassigning petitions among judges, assigning judges to handle informal conferences, performing or assigning other judges to perform hearing duties for judges who are absent, training and evaluating new judges, interfacing with stakeholders and evaluating the impact of proposed policy and legislative changes.

Administrative Officers

The four administrative officers manage the Office of Adjudication field office facilities and clerical staff, supporting the judges in their respective districts. They develop enhancements of the adjudication processes in the field and provide innovative technology, necessary equipment and appropriate training for field office staff. The administrative officers are the Office of Adjudication's liaisons with the various divisions of the bureau and the department. They provide necessities to the field offices to facilitate judges' hearing and decisions on a timely basis.

The Administrative Officers are:

Saundra Parker – Southeastern District
Linda Bivens – Eastern District
Sharon Hooks – Central District
Diane Dayton-Crawford – Western District

Compromise and Release Agreements

The parties may settle matters in dispute under the Act by entering into a Compromise and Release Agreement. The agreement must contain detailed information about the settlement and be presented to the judge on form LIBC-755, Compromise and Release Agreement.

A workers' compensation judge must conduct a hearing and circulate a written decision before the agreement can be effective. The judge may not approve the agreement unless the injured worker understands its full legal significance. During calendar year 2009, workers' compensation judges approved 14,978 Compromise and Release Agreements resulting in payments to injured workers totaling $870,257,703.73. Eighty-six percent of the approved Compromise and Release Agreements were "full" settlements resolving both the indemnity and medical aspects of the claim.

Alternative Dispute Resolution Services

The Office of Adjudication is pleased to offer mediation services, settlement conferences and informal conferences under the Act. Under this system, the decision is placed in the hands of the parties through a process of self-determination to reach an amicable agreement. The judge's role is to facilitate the parties' discussion, provide guidance through the process in identifying each party's interests and to assist the parties in determining creative solutions for possible settlements.

Parties retain control over the outcome. There is no cost when a workers' compensation judge serves as the neutral party. Other potential benefits of this system include:

- Informal sessions
- Open communication between the parties
- Expedition of the claims process
- Limited attorney involvement

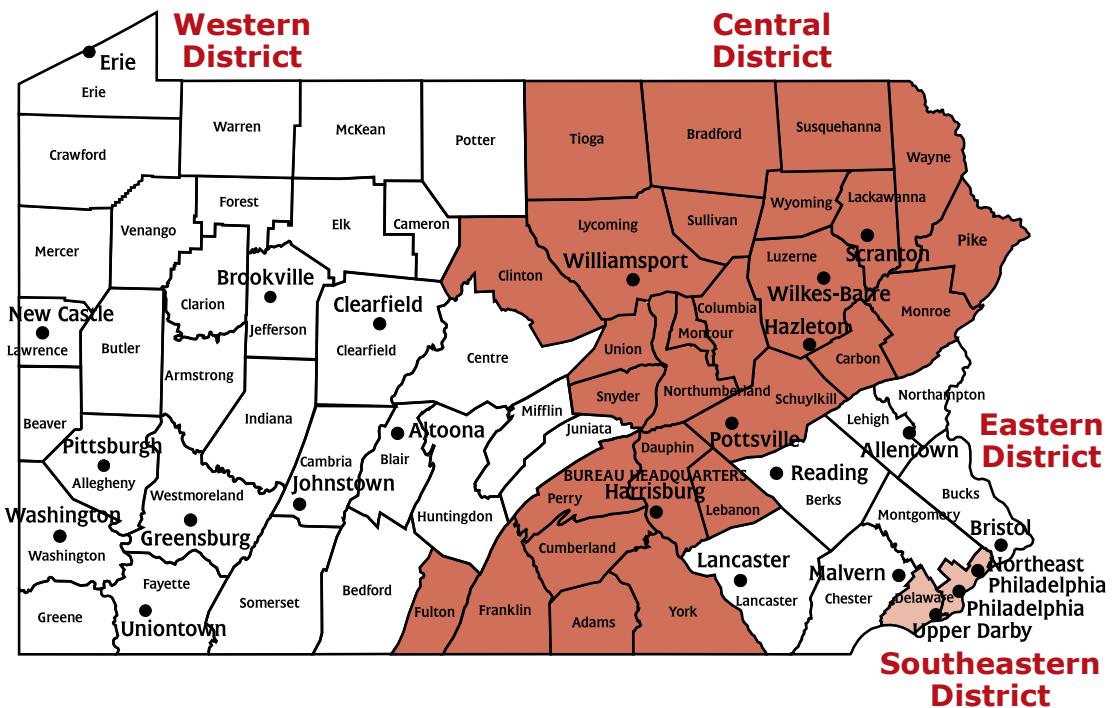

The Office of Adjudication schedules mandatory mediation sessions as required by the Act, as well as voluntary mediation sessions upon request of the parties. In 2009, the Office of Adjudication conducted mediations in 6,192 cases resulting in resolution of 3,035 claims.

WorkSAFE PA® Initiative: Promoting Pennsylvania Workplace Safety

Workplace safety is a priority of the Rendell Administration and of the Department of Labor & Industry. Governor Rendell is committed to the goal of reducing workplace injuries and illnesses in Pennsylvania. Good safety makes good sense for the worker, businesses and the commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Providing a safe work environment for Pennsylvania's workers requires complete commitment by employers and employees. For this reason, Governor Rendell instituted the workplace safety initiative called WorkSAFE PA® Promoting Pennsylvania Workplace Safety.

The mission and function of the WorkSAFE PA® initiative is to provide Pennsylvania employers and employees with the information and technical assistance needed to develop comprehensive safety practices in the workplace. It also recognizes successful employer-employee joint safety programs, which result in the achievement of safety excellence.

At the Department of Labor & Industry, resources from the Governor's Office of Labor-Management Cooperation; the bureaus of Workers' Compensation, Labor Law Compliance, PENNSAFE and Occupational & Industrial Safety; and the Safety, Health, Accident Prevention and Education Division (SHAPE) provide a coordinated effort to ensure workplace safety throughout the commonwealth.

Governor's Occupational Safety and Health Conference

This two-day conference brings together individuals with special interest in the field of workplace health and safety to share ideas and to meet innovators in safety program design and technology.

Using labor-management cooperation, the conference goal is to create a safer workplace and a healthier workforce, and to increase awareness of safety issues in the workplace, the home and throughout local communities.

Featuring nationally-known speakers, the conference highlights one-on-one interaction during two days of workshops. Many of the workshops are created based on needs expressed by attendees at the previous year's conference. In addition, workshops with the most interest from attendees are repeated in the second session of the day to ensure that all participants have the opportunity to participate in the workshops of their interest.

Governor's Award for Safety Excellence

Providing a safe work environment for Pennsylvania's workers requires complete commitment by employers and employees. For this reason, Governor Rendell's safety initiative will provide Pennsylvania employers and employees with the information and technical assistance needed to develop comprehensive safety practices in the workplace. It will also recognize the successful employer-employee joint safety programs, which result in the achievement of safety excellence.

The Governor's Award for Safety Excellence is a competitive award, as evidenced by the high number of nominations received annually. The information gained from these nominations provides valuable best practices that are shared across the state.

Any Pennsylvania employer is eligible for the Governor's Award for Safety Excellence; nominations for the award are voluntary. Information and criteria used to determine finalists include any established joint safety committee; level of labor and management cooperation in prevention efforts; a comprehensive safety plan with a commitment of resources and training; trends experienced in workplace injuries/illnesses over the past five years; number, frequency and severity of workplace injuries/illnesses vs. industry standards; and innovation and strategic development of safety policy and approaches.

Initial review of all nominations is conducted by the Governor's Award for Safety Excellence Review Committee. Semi-finalists are then contacted for an on-site visit conducted by a member(s) of the department's safety team to review the nominee's comprehensive safety program. Site visit reports are written and distributed to the Governor's Award for Safety Excellence Review Committee for the determination of finalists. Recommendations are then forwarded to the secretary of Labor & Industry, who makes the final determination.

A special luncheon at the annual Governor's Occupational Safety and Health Conference, in Hershey, Pa., is the stage for winner recognition and award presentations.

For a copy of the award application, visit www.dli.state.pa.us.
